

Well done Societies!

It's not even a month after the bazaar and already societies have taken off as societies such as CompSoc, Pole Dancing and Cocktail have already hit 100 members or more! There's already been tons of events, classes and socials so well done to all the committees and a massive thanks to everyone who's joined and supporting the societies! Remember it's never too late to get involved so if you've not had chance to try something you wanted, there's always time to go for it!

RockSoc really took advantage of their role as Society of the Week last week by using their space in The Piazza on Wednesday afternoon to attract new members by giving out sweets and playing quiet music, so keep an eye out for when it's your society's chance to show off your skills as Society of the Week!

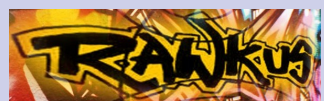

If your society past its time to shine and you feel like you didn't take full advantage, there are still spaces available later in the year for you to have another go at celebrating your society!

Societies of the Week

31st Oct. — 6th Nov.

7th — 13th Nov.

Upcoming Events

BBC Awards 17th—18th November

If you're in one of our performance societies you'll be sick to death about hearing about the BBC Awards, but it's not every day our societies end up on TV!! There will be 2 days of chaos at the Union as we work hard to get our Societies known through the country rather than just the University!

You might not be planning for Christmas yet but SocFed is!!

We have a series of events organised for everyone to get involved and show off their Societies such as

- Christmas Light Switch 27th November
- Santa Fun Run 4th December
- Christmas Funday Sunday 11th December
- Societies Showcase 13th December
